COVID-19 Information and Resources for Businesses

Dublin Virtual Community Conversations Thursday, April 9, 2020

In order to share information with the Dublin community about the current COVID-19 situation and how the City and County are responding, the City of Dublin will host a series of back-to-back virtual Community Conversations on Thursday, April 9, via Zoom Video Communications, and hosted by Dublin Mayor David Haubert. Topics will include a COVID-19 Public Health Update; an update from the Dublin Unified School District and the City of Dublin; and an update on our local business community.

The business community conversation will include City of Dublin Economic Development Director Hazel Wetherford, Dublin Chamber of Commerce CEO Inge Houston, Noah Brod with the Small Business Administration (San Francisco Office), and Ron Barrett with the Alameda County Small Business Development Center.

Those wishing to participate in any or all of the conversations and ask questions of the participants will need to login separately for each meeting. Once registered, call-in information and a link to access the webinar will be provided. More information is on the City's website.

Q&A with Small Business Development Center

Friday, April 10, 2020
10:30 a.m. - 11:30 a.m.

Small Business Development Center's (SBDC) expert financial team and other field experts will answer your questions about emergency response loans for COVID-19 on a Zoom call. SBDC will also host a Spanish language Q&A on April 16, 2020.

To join the Zoom call on Friday or for more information, visit their website.

If you are not familiar with SBDC, read this factsheet on the role of SBDC's versus the SBA.

Property Tax Deadline is April 10; Hardship Process Being Created

The deadline to pay Alameda County property taxes remains April 10, 2020, however the Alameda County Treasurer-Tax Collector announced they will work with taxpayers on an individual basis to address hardships caused by the coronavirus and the Shelter-in-Place order. After April 10, they will have a penalty cancellation request form specifically related to COVID-19 hardships.

#TRIVALLEYTogether

Innovation TRIVALLEY Leadership Group (ITV) is asking local business leaders to help our region by donating or simply supporting local businesses as we navigate this time of uncertainty together. ITV is coordinating efforts to direct our region's help in these three focused areas:

- Donate Technology to support online learning
- Donate Medical Supplies to Tri-Valley Hospitals
- Donate Cash to support our most vulnerable population

If you have questions about how you or your company can participate, please email ITV.

ITV is also interested in hearing about the actions of local businesses. To spread the message that innovation, empathy and connectivity builds regional resiliency, they are interested in acknowledging how your business is contributing. Please send your "good news" information to Traci Anderson at ITV.

For more information, visit ITV's website.

Does Your Business Have a Surplus Food Inventory?

With restaurants ordered to close or limited to delivery and take-out orders, many food service businesses have more inventory than they can use. Meanwhile, the Alameda County Community Food Bank (ACCFB) is seeing an increased need in the community as many residents have lost their income. If your business has surplus food inventory, consider donating it to ACCFB.

ACCEPTED:

Meat, bread, produce, dairy, ready-to-eat items, dry and shelf-stable staples, canned proteins, healthy snacks, and some non-food items. Donated food must be in sealed packages with labels that include ingredients and allergens.

NOT ACCEPTED:

Prepared food, such as trays of lasagna, rice, etc.

To make a food donation, visit <https://mealconnect.org>.

Materials Available for Shop Small

American Express has created ready-to-use Shop Small materials for use during the COVID-19 pandemic to help business owners get the word out about how you're navigating the current situation, and how your customers can help.
