

Conversations, Barbara Grygutis,

“Conversations”, intended to embrace our shared humanity, located at the All Abilities Playground at Dublin Sports Ground, has been designed to emphasize and highlight a fundamental human interaction; the ability to listen and the ability to dialogue and engage in conversation. The human head silhouette is symbolic of our humanity, with each structure being rendered in a different manner to showcase our differences and similarities. The artist, Barbara Grygutis creates iconic works of public art which enhance the built environment, enable civic interaction, and reveal unspoken relationships between nature and humanity.